ABOUT ME

I'm highly motivated Junior Javascript Developer. I'm a self learner and passionate about tech. By almost 10 years of experience in Banking Industry I was working with corporate and private clients, negotiating and building relations. My communication and interpersonal skills are my forte. I'm also a learning freak, I love to learn and gain new knowledge. The discovery of programming was a breakthrough in my life, I would like to continue walking on this path and be a valuable member of your team.
